Not just for preppers wanting to shelter in place or TEOTWAWKI or WTSHTF or off-grid living, this book shows how almost any home can be made more energy efficient, can be engineered to have rainwater storage, can reuse grey water, provide heat plus growing conditions for daily food. You can take some of the author's personal experience and begin your food independence and water storage in phases. While not strictly a DIY project, some portions are best accomplished by professional contractors for safety and to possibly meet building codes. This is an exciting book filled with concepts that open your eyes to what this author is DOING and is sharing his experiences, both good and could have worked better.0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Great Book!By TerriI am glad that I read this book before building a tunnel greenhouse. The ideas in this book are smart and economical. I can add this with no problem and I won't have to worry about the wind tearing it up. Great book.0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. If you're looking for the ultimate green house book then ...By baddogIf you're looking for the ultimate green house book then look no further this is it!!This greenhouse will pay for itself with just the savings on hot waterRick you did one hell of a job!!

This is the ultimate sustainable homestead and prepper greenhouse, but purposely doesn't look like it. Imagine a greenhouse that heats your home in the winter; and heats your water; that grows five times more food per sq. ft. than a hoop house; that provides food for you and your family all year long; where your food grows in 3 dimensions; where you never have to use fertilizer; where you never have to use pesticide, and where you can grow exotic foods (i.e. citrus or coffee trees in New England); that allows you to start seedlings in the spring; that hides your solar electric system; and that can house your small animals or incubate chickens and ducks. All disguised to look like a porch on your home, so that desperate and hungry passersby would have no idea that you have food growing there. This greenhouse does all that. This book is a simple, straight-forward, step by step approach to creating your own Secret Greenhouse of Survival, and it's easy and cheap to build! Written by Rick Austin, the Survivalist Gardener, the author of the #1 Best Selling book in Garden Design- The Secret Garden of Survival- How to Grow a Camouflaged Food Forest.
