Michele Rami : Seeing Light before purchasing it in order to gauge whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Seeing Light:

Taking account of the natural feeling for light and the reaction to certain light moods, lighting designer Michele A. Rami places people and their well-being at the centre of his planning approach: "Architecture is made for people. It must give them a place where they feel comfortable, where they can be who they are. And many factors play a role in this, some of which cannot be physically measured." The book "See the Light" showcases this approach and all its facets. The projects presented include, among others, several projects of the Stuttgart architects
