1 of 1 people found the following review helpful. a responsible, breath taking workBy R. MinceyThe authors did such a fine job, there are many interior photos of wood work that will very rarely be duplicated in our day. The captions and descriptions accompanying the photos are informative, enjoyable reading. Speaking as one who has an appreciation of fine wood work, I can tell you this is an inspiring book.0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Love historic architectureBy H. GaddisThis is a book I checked out of the library many years ago. It inspired my love of history and architecture. I always wanted a copy and when I saw it on I had to have it. I am not disappointed. It is as beautiful as I remember.

314 photographs of Charleston homes and near-by plantations interiors give a fine representation of the beauty and fine craftsmanship of these inspired structures.
