Katherine Sorrell : Space and Light: How to Maximize the Potential of Your Home (Mitchell Beazley Interiors) before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Space and Light: How to Maximize the Potential of Your Home (Mitchell Beazley Interiors):

Rarely has a guide been so literally enlightening! That's because it's filled with information on how to achieve a bright, spacious, uncluttered home by maximizing space and light—key issues in every abode, whether rented or owned, large or small, in the town or the country. Many of the solutions are both quick and inexpensive, and six practical case studies show the theory put into eye-opening practice. Pages of inspiring images and advice illustrate key points of interior design—including color, pattern, and texture, as well as window treatments and light fixtures—and a room-by-room analysis covers specific needs in detail.

About the Author Katherine Sorrell is a former Associate Editor (features) of Homes Gardens magazine, and now writes books as well as magazine and newspaper features on interiors, design, style, and crafts. Based in Penzance, Cornwall, her most recent books are Home Design Planner and City Living (both Ryland, Peters Small) and The Art of Display (Mitchell Beazley).
