From Frame Publishers : Studio O+A: Twelve True Tales of Workplace Design before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Studio O+A: Twelve True Tales of Workplace Design:

An inspiring monograph that takes an in-depth look at the work of San Francisco-based Studio O+A. The company has created an inspiring range of office environments that have changed how work and workplace are defined. The firm has a long roster of internationally-recognized clients from Facebook to Nike, Cisco to Uber which attests to the studios ability to translate that culture into physical space. Primo Orpilla is one of the founders of Studio O+A. He is also a lecturer at the Department of Design of the San Jos State University. Verda Alexander is one of the founders of Studio O+A. She is a got her B.A at San Jose State University, and her MFA at the San Francisco Art Institute.
