I can't believe the publisher abandoned it so soon after its initial publication. I've tried contacting the publisher via email, phone, regular mail but they won't respond. I've begged and pleaded with them to reprint it, but so far unsuccessful. An acquaintance owns an English copy that I made a copy of. After showing it to many architectural coworkers, I made multiple copies from my copy for them; yes, I've even asked for permission to make copies, but still no response. The publisher has no idea how they're missing out! And how the rest of the architectural world is suffering without access to this wonderful book. Can't wait to find a copy.
