The hardest part of gardening is often figuring out what to plant! It can be confusing for new and experienced gardeners in the Peach State to grapple with choosing the right plants for sun, shade, wet, dry areas in the garden. And how can you choose from so many different and lovely annuals, perennials, flowers, trees, shrubs, native plants, edible plants, wildlife-attracting plants, and more? The Georgia Gardener's Book of Plant Lists is for all gardeners in Georgia and all across the South. This book contains lists covering nearly every planting situation, and includes lots of old favorite plants and many new favorites too. John A. Denson is a Georgia-licensed landscape architect who has spent years working on gardens big and small throughout the South. Now you can learn his secret plant tips and tricks for finding exactly the right plant for exactly the right spot in your garden! The Georgia Gardener's Book of Plant Lists will help you get the inside scoop on gardening in Georgia, and will inspire you to try something new in your garden!

About the Author John A. Denson, PLA began gardening under his grandfathers guidance at age 11, and now he is a Georgia-licensed landscape architect, specializing in residential garden design. He has worked on gardens big and small throughout the South, and around the world, although his favorite garden is the one at his home.
