GarfieldIt should be called the The Greenhouse Grower Expert. that is to say, it talks briefly about design of green houses, and heavily about what you would do inside one that is already built- mostly about what one might grow inside such a structure.I loved The Fruit Expert, but was a bit disappointed in teh lack of depth on design here.3 of 3 people found the following review helpful. Experience and Information in one bookBy S.MarkelThis isn't a book I would necessarily sit down and read cover to cover but it is a great book for reference. The author brings a lot of experience and knowledge to the book and I am pleased to have this as a "go to" book when we run into questions with the greenhouse.1 of 1 people found the following review helpful. I love my new bookBy ME from SCI love my new book!!!! It is in excellent condition and arrived in a timely manner. Can hardly wait for fall to be here to use this book in my new greenhouse!!!

Whether you already own a greenhouse or you're thinking about buying or building one, here's the vital information in full color you need to get the most from your money, effort and time. "The Greenhouse Expert offers data on structure and equipment (including installation instructions on floors, gutters, doors, lighting, ventilators, blinds, shelving, insulation, glazing, and heating); greenhouse plants (a list covering 58 pages); and care (of both structure and plants). There is a chapter dealing with pests and diseases and a month-by-month calendar on when to do what."--Booklist.

"The Expert style of publishing at last has focused on greenhouse gardening. The Hessayon magic lifts the secrets off growing under glass, keeping everything very simple and very tidy" Garden Answers "One of the best sources of information" Garden News About the Author Dr Hessayon's best-selling guides have had an unparalleled influence on gardening over the past 50 years. There are over 52 million copies in print. In 1999 he received a Guinness World Record Award as 'Britain's best-selling living author of the 1990s'. In 2012 he was included in the Daily Mail list of '60 truly great Elizabethans' for 'teaching millions of us how to garden'.
