Some of the finest handsaws ever made were produced in the early 20th century by four of the leading manufacturers: E.C. Atkins Co. of Indianapolis, Henry Disston Sons of Philadelphia, Simonds Manufacturing Co. of Fitchburg, MA, and Spear Jackson of Sheffield, England. This collection reproduces the hand saw section from a major catalog issued during this period by each of these four manufacturers. The style and grade of each saw is fully described and illustrated, along with much other related information. A most useful and convenient reference. 136 pages. Fully illustrated. 7" x 10". Soft cover.
